Dr. Avron Lipschitz

Dr. Avron Lipschitz has an insatiable interest in the three key elements of plastic surgery: art, science and care. His training began at University of Cape Town, where he earned his medical degree, and continued with his fellowship training at Johns Hopkins University. His practice, Athena Plastic Surgery and Medspa, specializes in cosmetic procedures for the face and body. "Becoming a plastic surgeon requires tremendous personal sacrifice but is also the best job in the world," he says. "Many patients come to me saying they do not recognize the person in the mirror, or the mirror does not reflect the patient's true identity. The amazing part of plastic surgery is that a patient's sense of self is transformed." Dr. Lipschitz offers state-of-the-art 3D Virtual consultations using a results simulator. This is a simple but powerful application that allows him to modify photos to simulate plastic surgery results on anyone's face and body. Convenient hours including Saturdays and evenings, complimentary consultations and exceptional care create the ultimate first-class experience. Dr. Lipschitz has offices located in both Stuart and Palm Beach Gardens.
